A Farmer's Creed

Man's greatest possession is his dignity, no calling bestows this more abundantly than farming. Hard work and honest sweat are the building blocks of a person's character. Despite its hardships and disappointments, farming is the most honourable way a man can spend his days on this earth. Farming nurtures the close family ties that make life rich in ways money cannot buy. Farming provides education for life, and no other occupation teaches so much about birth, growth, and maturity in such a variety of ways. Many of the best things in life are indeed free, the splendour of a sunrise, the rapture of the wide-open spaces, the exhilarating sight of your land greening each spring. True happiness comes from watching your crops ripen in the field; your whole family feels the pride that springs from their shared experience. By my toil, I am giving more to the world than I am taking from it, an honour that does not come to all men. My life will be measured ultimately by what I have done for my fellow man, and by his standard, I fear no judgment. When a man grows old and sums up his days, he should be able to stand tall and feel pride in the life he's lived. I believe in farming because it makes all this possible.
